We see that one of the chief organs of the Republican party in New York has come to the conclusion that the folks in his region are not all as free as they might be; nor is the editor satisfied that there is so much difference of soutiment between the North and South after all. After noticing that poor women are turned ont of their houses to freeze because they can't pay the rent; and men refused charitable aid because they are able to work, although they are nnable to find work to do, he ventures on a more delicate snggestion, speaking of a call for a disunion convention. He says:

wention. He says:

We do not believe there is any such radical difference between the people of the North and of the South respectively as this call alleges. True, the ruling class at the South generally sayes, while that at the North does not; but how far is this a difference of principle! suppose each addit male citizen of the free States were to morrow to receive a Southern letter, saying, "I beg leave to approve you that, by the death of your bachelor uncle so-and-so, you are left heir to a dozen fet, heasthy argrow, worth a thousand doilurs per head," how more nearly all the Republican, not half the Americans; and not one in twenty of the Democrato. Yeth were abaundly mistaken to affirm a radicellad and fundamental difference between men who hold slaves and men who would hold them if they could only get them. We are quite sure that, of the men who voted for Buchenan In this city, forty, nine officials helieve in Swerry, and would not aboush tif they could liow can such people be expected to break up the Unita, meetly or mainly became certain parties to it are slave-holders.

Before the Northern people can have been brought earnestly to say, "We prefer distriction with freedom to the Union with slavery" there will be no elsevery to second from. He does the Democrats, we presume, no more than justice; but we doubt if he does full justice to the Americans; and not half justice to the Republicans. In our opinion, the Republicans would act sensibly-the mass of them-move South and turn fire-eaters. They would not be would keep dark, sneak off, sell ont at high prices sider African slavery a sin, would, perhaps, dethe South. An sot that does evil to those it is intended to benefit according to frequent experience, and which it requires personal sacrifices to perform, is not likely to be reveated.

But the editor, before he gets through, aunonness that the Democrats of New York would not abolish slavery if they could. We don't know how that is, but if it be true, it shows still further their good sense. He that reflects upon the history of the black race, in their own country and elsewhere-compares their condition in the United States with their condition anywhere else, will heritate to make a change if he has the power. The question arises with any conservative man, what shall I substitute for the present relation of the negro to the white man in the Southern States? He knows he cannot make the negro free, his equality with the white man nature has forbidden. If the present slaves in the South had been scatpreserved it in the new States, and the number of slave would have been diminished, perhaps, one-third. The States that now have slaves have interest enough in them to keep them; and no schomes of emancipation will be regarded with favor, or even tolerated; for none is practicable. The wise statesmen of the free States will let slavery alone; and leave communities to do as they please. It is a rockloss and perilous business to disturb the social relations of millions of people. Time only changes such things; and hy "Poter Pariez," in his "Resollections," just we believe that the North, of all parties, sooner published: or later will come to the conclusion not to abolish slavery even if they can.

We were a good deal amused at an article in the Indianapolis Daily Jeurnal. The editor notices our defense of the Democratic Scuators two years age; wherein we said they did "expectly right." He thinks this very Indiscreet babbling; and that it arises from the fact that we can entertain but one idea at a time. He thinks that as it is unprofitable to hold such an opiniou now; since his party have a majority of the Scuate, and many refuse to go into an election with a Democratic majority on joint ballot.

all refuse to go into an election of a United States Sonator, as the uncorupulous Democrate did?. They are roady to perpetrate the act they lenounced with so much patriotic indignation. The editor evidently expects his party now to refuse to go into an election, and does not even think it worth while to notice that two years ago, he and his party thought such an act a monstrous outrage. With a coolness that is amusing, he sneers at consistency, and does not see that in the act he now meditates, he expesses himself and his party to contempt; that he is ready to perpetrate what he esteems and has declared an outrage just as soon as It is profitable; and he actually thinks a man a block-head, that would ntter a sentiment that he held two years ago,

Then the Independent tells the Reverend Bee wickedness of a Democratic Senate. Did they really think so, or did they lie for mere party effect? We shall see; and the whole country will see. The editor of the organ has exposed himself already; he has hung himself up a naked spectacle of disgusting hypocrisy, and tergiver- it seems:

The Eighth of January. This is the anniversary of one of the most stirring and important events in the history of our country-the memorable battle of New Orieans, late war with the mother country. The day is liarly fitted for the delicate task of criticism. The hallowed in the memory of the aged patriot, and title of the work is somewhat elaborate, thus: should be held easted by every American. It is "An Address delivered by Rev. J. A. the event may be regarded as almost a fixed fact The policy of securing so important an exhibition here cannot fail at once to present itself to every thinking mind, and to meet with that prompt attention which it deserves, especially as the subscription asked for is only in the shape o' a guarantee that the receipts from entries, gate fees, &c., shall be equal to the disbursements for premiams, &s.

Four annual meetings of this seciety have al ready been held in four of the States, which have been induced in every instance by the offers of a sum of money guaranteed; and in no instance has ever a call been made on the subscribers, but, or the contrary, the receipts have been largely in excess of the expenses, premisems, &c., paid out.

The committee, who have, been so actively on gaged in this most worthy enterprise, will, we un derstand, call upon our citizens in a day or two and we hope they will be met with that libera hand which alone can secure to us an exhibition which, in point of merit and importance has no equal in the United States, and one that would attract more people and money to this poin than any other event that could possibly occur Prompt action in this matter must be had, as the decision will be made at Washington city on the 14th inst.

WHITE SLAVERY .- The Newark, N. J., Merco ry relates a case of a boy, about 12 or 14 years o age, who is kept at work at one of the factories o that city from 7 A. M. till 10 P. ## Fact and Fancy.

Sometimes, very much to our gratification, our enemies write books, but, now and then, quite to our mertification and regret, our friends induige the came weakness. We have before as A BOCK BY A LOUISVILLE AUTHOR.

Emansting from one who is neither friend nor which decided the fortunes of our arms in the foe; and, from this consideration, we feel pecufor personal friendship and remembrances of pas-"careioss inxury" which characterizes the author while it irrevocably commits the Reverne gentleman to hostility to "Bible revision." The author concludes his prefatory remarks thus: The items in this small pamphles were written by me, at brief intervals, and also published in different papers, mostly over my fi-ticious signature, 'NiHil NEMO.' At the carnest solicitation of a tried friend (who has made the selection from my Scrap Book), the ADDRESS and ITEMS ere transferred to these pages without alteration, as I am appeared to 'Revision.'" As Dr. Beil is a general reader, and has doubtless added the work in question to his library, we are animated vith some curiosity as to the nature of his feelings, when he finished the reading of Mr. Henon the Four h of July" is remarkable in many respects; evincing on unusual tact upon the part of an "orator" in the employment of eloquent language without the introduction of dons. He opens by giving his hearers some inormation in reference to the foundation princioles of our government, which latter, he says, is a theogratic republic, established upon the sternal principles of truth and justice, and so ong as we carry out the original design of Heaen, we are invincible." It is hoped the "original design" will be respected. He pays the

'Pilgrim Fathers" a very handsome compliment, peaking of the motives which empelled them "Piymouth's bleach-ed Rick:" "Not as as conquering legions, with the murtlal notes if the war bugle, do they reach the Western vilderness-with hearts boating high with gritnde to God and Heaven, they stepped on Plycouth's bleached rock, and the first smoke of their somp fire is mingled with the prayer that dedisates this wilderness to the cause of freedom The decoction of camp fire smake and puritanical rayer turned out to be very efficacious, for they oen conclude to go into the thunderbolt business nus: "Yes, God determined that, in this ionely wilderness, the moral [hear!] thunderbolt should se forged, that it should be hurled back upon the id world, and cause the Roman Vatioan to queke to its very conter, and break off every chain of se potism, and leave the world free to feed joyfully upon the bread of life." The orater then receeds to throw some light upon the authorship f the Declaration of Independence, attributing t to the "immortal Adams." Some historians nave run into the popular error that a man by he name of Jefferson was in some way mixed up n the affair. As if it were not enough to socredthe clder Adams with the "Declaration." he opresents him as saying, "thore is a divinity that hapes our ends," &c. The grator's exhertation the young to "cultivate the normant energics the mind," and bis compliment to our system f free schools, as the player says, "is good," and learly evinces that he knows semething about dormant energies," albeit he may not be so well equainted with the workings of our free school system. In the language of Dr. C. B. Parsons, 'he is gone !!!' " In reply to his interrogatory, we would say that the various tribes have sought different localities, the Seminoles at inst accounts were in Florida; the Duerokoes are cultivating the arts of civilisation in Arkaness; the Flatheads (no allusion to anybody) are wandering about loose; but the most of the Indians, we believe, have gone "way out to Wissonsin." We rather like the orator's invocation to Peace: "May peace reign throughout your porders; and upon ble armor we see no stains of war's bloody hand; his bright lance reoks not with the gore of the slain. His visor is up; his eye is ixed upon the banner that floats above him, earing the talismanie words, 'en toute nickel' We would be pieased to pursue this review, but i eight not be profitable. The "work" concludes with some characteristic obituary notices, interpersed with "poetry." "Thoughts of Heaven" is an offusion which would do credit to Mrs. Hemans, and probably has aided somewhat to herfame. To Editors of the Democrat: GENTS: We have two propositions to submit specticely to the public, and that very honorable riy, the City Coaneil, both in connection with that everlasting question of the old court-house. The first is, that the council advertise for proposais to finish, alter, or remodel the present build ing, or for plans for a now one to be built on the resent site, or on the vacant city property where ic. 2 stands, and in the event of the latter being elected, to tear down the old and convert the round into comething like a park. And to othrwise proceed in a business like manner, giving remuneration to all who offer plans, and a suffiient reward to the author of the one adopted to fully compensate hits for the labor expended, sub mitting them all to the ratification of the citi zans, and have generally as distinct and clear an

The second, is that in the mean time, we the voers and tax-payers of the city, on next Saturday morning week, go quietly to the polle, and put an everlasting veto on the absurd idea of voting $200,000 out of our pockets, without clearly uniecetanding how it is to be appropriated, and what, if any, benefit is to arise from it. THE CHILLS AND FEVER. will certify to the truth of the above. We do not he state to pronounce it in Ague the "REMEDY." It contains no Quininue or Arsenic, or other polsonous a deleterious druzs, but is excirely regetable in its composition. Apart from its sanative effects in Chills an Fever, it is a superior Tonic in debilitated constitutions produced by repeated stiacks of Ague and other die eases. CHARLESTOWN, Imp. Dec. 28, 1255.

Messrs. EUTCLIFFE & HUGHES, Louisville, Ky.:

Gests: I have sold, during the past season, twenty-fived one or three hundred bottles of your Chill and Fever medicine, linghes Tonic. This indorsement of public sentiments peaks loudly its its praise, and I but echotha opinions of all who have used it, when I say that I consider it one of the very best remedies, bottles to consider it one of the very best remedies, bottles to consider it one of the very best remedies, but that I consider it one of the very best remedies, but for the prevention and cure of Fever and Agne that has ever come under my observation. I have no hestancy in recommending it to every person requiring such a Tonic. Hoping that you may successfully in troduce your valuable medicine to the public generally.
